To contact you for marketing purposes (see 'Marketing and opting out' in clause 8 below);

We send out marketing communications based on our legitimate interests of providing a professional services business and keeping people informed about the services we offer. The method of communication may vary as set out below: we may send you information via post or, if you are dealing with us on behalf of a limited company or LLP, to your corporate email address; we will only contact you via your personal email address if: you have given your consent (see 'Marketing and opting out' in clause 8 below); or you have previously bought goods and services from us and we are contacting you to let you know about similar goods and services that we offer (see 'Marketing and opting out' in clause 8 below).

You have the right at any time to let us know that you no longer wish to receive marketing communications from us.

to disclose your information to selected third parties as permitted by this Policy (see clause 9 below); this processing is subject to your continued consent to the processing of your data for that specific purpose (see 'Marketing and opting out' in clause 8 below);

7. Your consent to processing

1. As noted above, you will be required to give consent to certain processing activities before we can process your Information as set out in this Policy. Where applicable, we will seek this consent from you when you first submit Information to or through the website.
2. If you have previously given consent you may freely withdraw such consent at any time. You can do this through your account on the website or by notifying us in writing (see clause 8.4 below).

3. If you withdraw your consent, and if we do not have another legal basis for processing your information (see clause 6 above), then we will stop processing your Information. If we do have another legal basis for processing your information, then we may continue to do so subject to your legal rights (for which see clause 14 below).
4. Please note that if we need to process your Information to operate the website, web booking portal, mobile device booking application and/or provide our services, and you object or do not consent to us processing your Information, those services may not be available to you.

8. Marketing and opting out

1. Where you are dealing with us on behalf of a limited company or LLP, for business purposes, then we may contact you by email to your corporate email address about similar or related products that we offer. If you prefer not to receive any direct marketing communications from us, or you no longer wish to receive them, you can opt out at any time (see below).
2. Where you have previously ordered products or services from us we may contact you by telephone, SMS, email and post about similar or related products, services, promotions and special offers that may be of interest to you. We will inform you (during the sale process) if we intend to use your data for such purposes and give you the opportunity to opt-out of receiving such information from us. In addition, and if you have given permission, we may also contact you by telephone, SMS, email and post about our other products, services, promotions and special offers that may be of interest to you. We will inform you (before collecting your data) and seek your permission if we intend to use your data for such additional marketing purposes. If you prefer not to receive any direct marketing communications from us, or you no longer wish to receive them, you can opt out at any time (see below).
3. If you have given permission, we may share your personal data with carefully selected third party organisations and business partners and they may contact you directly (unless you have asked them not to do so) by mail, SMS, telephone and email about products, services, promotions and special offers that may be of interest to you. We will inform you (before collecting your data) and seek your permission if we intend to disclose your data to third parties for such purposes. If you prefer not to receive direct marketing communications from our business partners, or you no longer wish to receive them, you can opt out at any time (see below).
4. You have the right at any time to ask us, or any third party, to stop processing your information for direct marketing purposes. If you wish to exercise this right, you should contact us by sending an email to compliance@veezu.co.uk, or contact the relevant third party using their given contact details, giving us or them enough information to identify you and deal with your request. Alternatively you can follow the unsubscribe instructions in emails you receive from us or them.

9. Disclosure of your information

1. We may disclose your Information (including Personal Data):
 1. to other companies within our group of companies (which means our subsidiaries, our ultimate holding company and its subsidiaries, as defined in section 1159 of the UK Companies Act 2006);
 2. to our business partners, service providers, such as our drivers, or third-party contractors to enable them to undertake services for us and/or on our behalf (and we will ensure they have appropriate security, compliance and data protection measures in place to protect your Information);
 3. third party payment providers (for more information please see below);
 4. to any prospective buyer or seller (and their representatives) in the event that we sell or buy any business or assets; and
 5. if we are under a duty to disclose or share Personal Data in order to comply with any legal obligation, including (but not limited to) any request or order from law enforcement agencies and/or HMRC in connection with any investigation to help prevent unlawful activity.
2. We may disclose aggregated, anonymous information (i.e. information from which you cannot be personally identified), or insights based on such anonymous information, to selected third parties, including (without limitation) analytics and search engine providers to assist us in the improvement and optimisation of the website. In such circumstances we do not disclose any information which can identify you personally.
3. If our whole business is sold or integrated with another business your Information may be disclosed to our advisers and any prospective purchasers and their advisers and will be passed on to the new owners of the business.

10. Keeping your Information secure

1. We will use technical and organisational measures in accordance with BS EN ISO/IEC 27001 Information Security Management to safeguard your Information, including the use of data encryption to transmit data securely.
2. While we will use all reasonable efforts to safeguard your Information, you acknowledge that the use of the internet is not entirely secure and for this reason we cannot guarantee the security or integrity of any Information that is transferred from you or to you via the internet.

11. Monitoring

1. We may monitor and record communications with you (such as telephone conversations and emails) for the purposes of provision of services, quality assurance, training, fraud prevention and compliance purposes. Any information that we receive through such monitoring and communication will be added to the information we already hold about you and may also be used for the purposes listed in clause 6

12. Overseas transfers

1. From time to time we may need to transfer your Information to countries outside the European Economic Area, which comprises the EU member states plus Norway, Iceland and Liechtenstein ("EEA").
2. Such countries may not have similar protections in place regarding protection and use of your data as those set out in this Policy. Therefore, if we do transfer your Information to countries outside the EEA we will take reasonable steps in accordance with applicable Privacy and Data Protection Requirements to ensure adequate protections are in place to ensure the security of your Information.
3. By submitting your Information to us in accordance with this Policy you consent to these transfers for the purposes specified in this Policy.

13. Information about other individuals

1. If you give us information on behalf of a third party, you confirm that the third party has appointed you to act on his/her/their behalf and has agreed that you can: give consent on his/her/their behalf to the processing of his/her/their Information; receive on his/her/their behalf any data protection notices; and give consent to the transfer of his/her/their Information abroad (if applicable).

14. Your rights

1. If you are an individual, this section sets out your legal rights in respect of any of your Personal Data that we are holding and/or processing. If you wish to exercise any of your legal rights, you should put your request in writing to us (using our contact details in clause 21.1 below) giving us enough information to identify you and respond to your request.
2. You have the right to request access to information about Personal Data that we may hold and/or process about you, including: whether we are holding and/or processing your Personal Data; the extent of the Personal Data we are holding; and the purposes and extent of the processing.
3. You have the right to have any inaccurate information we hold about you be corrected and/or updated. If any of the Information that you have provided changes, or if you become aware of any inaccuracies in such Information, please let us know in writing giving us enough information deal with the change or correction.
4. You have the right in certain circumstances to request that we delete all Personal Data we hold about you (the 'right of erasure'). Please note that this right of erasure is not available in all circumstances, for example where we need to retain the Personal Data for legal compliance purposes. If this is the case, we will let you know.
5. You have the right in certain circumstances to request that we restrict the processing of your Personal Data, for example where the Personal Data is inaccurate or where you have objected to the processing (see clause 7 below).
6. You have the right to request a copy of the Personal Data we hold about you and to have it provided in a structured format suitable for you to be able to transfer it to

1. a different data controller (the 'right to data portability'). Please note that the right to data portability is only available in some circumstances, for example where the processing is carried out by automated means. If you request the right to data portability and it is not available to you, we will let you know.
2. You have the right in certain circumstances to object to the processing of your Personal Data. If so, we shall stop processing your Personal Data unless we can demonstrate sufficient and compelling legitimate grounds for continuing the processing which override your own interests. If, as a result of your circumstances, you do not have the right to object to such processing then we will let you know.
3. You have the right in certain circumstances not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, for example where a computer algorithm (rather than a person) makes decisions which affect your contractual rights. Please note that this right is not available in all circumstances. If you request this right and it is not available to you, we will let you know.
4. You have the right to object to direct marketing, for which see clause 4 above

15. Complaints

1. If you have any concerns about how we collect or process your Information then you have the right to lodge a complaint either with us (using our contact details in clause 21.1 below) or with a supervisory authority, which for the UK is the UK Information Commissioner's Office ("ICO"). Complaints can be submitted to the ICO through the ICO helpline by calling 0303 123 1113. Further information about reporting concerns to the ICO is available at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>.

16. 'Cookies' and related software

1. Our software may issue 'cookies' (small text files) to your device when you access and use the website and you will be asked to consent to this at the time (e.g. when you first visit our website). Cookies do not affect your privacy and security since a cookie cannot read data off your system or read cookie files created by other sites.
2. Our websites use cookies and other tracking and monitoring software to: distinguish our users from one another; collect standard Internet log information; and to collect visitor behaviour information. The information is used to track user interactions with the website and allows us to provide you with a good experience when you access the website, helps us to improve our website, and allows us to compile statistical reports on website visitors and website activity.
3. You can set your system not to accept cookies if you wish (for example by changing your browser settings so cookies are not accepted), however please note that some of our website features may not function if you remove cookies from your system. For further general information about cookies please visit aboutcookies.org or www.allaboutcookies.org.

17. Changes to this Policy

1. We keep this Policy under regular review and may change it from time to time. If we change this Policy we will post the changes on this page, and place notices on other pages of the website as applicable, so that you may be aware of the Information we collect and how we use it at all times. You are responsible for ensuring that you are aware of the most recent version this Policy as it will apply each time you access the website.

18. Links to other websites

1. Our website may contain links to other websites. This Policy only applies to our websites. If you access links to other websites any Information you provide to them will be subject to the privacy policies of those other websites.
2. We have no control over third party websites or systems and accept no legal responsibility for any content, material or information contained in them. Your use of third party sites or systems will be governed by the terms and conditions of that third party. It is your responsibility to ensure you are happy with such third-party terms and conditions.
3. The display of any hyperlink and/or reference to any third-party website, system, product or service does not mean that we endorse that third party's website, products or services and any reliance you place on such hyperlink, reference or advert is done at your own risk.

19. Payments

1. Veezu Holdings Ltd and its group of companies may use approved third-party payment providers to manage payments from your credit and/or debit card account for journeys booked with the mobile application over the phone or on our web portal. The processing of payments or credits in connection with the use of the mobile application or other electronic and services will be subject to the terms and conditions and privacy policy of our third-party payment processor and your issuing card authority in addition to this Policy.
2. Adding a card to our service runs a pre-authorisation on that card for the amount of £1.01 which is a temporary transaction of 'held' funds. This is to ensure the card and the account have valid funds and are genuine, it is for your and our company's security and fraud prevention. You will be able to see these pre-authorisation transactions credited back to your account on your statement.
3. All journey charges will be shown on your receipt emailed to the address used to sign up for credit and debit card bookings. These charges are subject to change at any time and you will notified within the platform and in your vehicle.
4. You will make payment to the limited company that you are using the service for under the Veezu Holdings Ltd. group of companies via our third-party payment provider gateway which in turn will be passed on to your driver. You agree that you will pay for all of the journeys booked through these methods and that your registered card(s) for those you select to are to be paid accordingly by that card, you are responsible for timely payment of all fares

5. Your credit and/or debit card details will be securely tokenised and held by our third-party payment processor under PCI level 1 compliance. We do not have access to your personal credit and/or debit card information and cannot share that information. Employees, sub-contractors or individuals will at no point have access to this payment information.

20. Payments made by credit or debit card for completed journeys are non-refundable. For more information around PCI compliance and pre-authorisation please visit:
